Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following documents :

D1: KOCH G ET AL: 'Co-emulation and debugging of HW/SW-systems' SYSTEM SYNTHESIS, 1997. PROCEEDINGS., TENTH INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON ANTWERP, BELGIUM 17-19 SEPT. 1997, LOS ALAMITOS, CA, USA, IEEE COMPUT. SOC, US, 17 September 1997 (1997-09-17), pages 120-125, XP010245612 ISBN: 0-8186-7949-2

2. Reasoning with regard to novelty and inventive step (Article 33 PCT)

The document D1 is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject-matter of claim 1.

D1 addresses the same problem as the current application, namely allowing the system to be debugged after a breakpoint is encountered. In D1, each component model is replaced by a debug model for the component that keeps the information available for a debugger.

The current application provides an alternative solution by providing another clock signal to the IP core when the debugging mode is entered. This way the core remains active and can respond to debugging actions. The prior art does not disclose nor hint at this alternative solution.

The subject-matter of claim 1 is therefore novel (Article 33(2) PCT) and inventive (Article 33(3) PCT).

The same reasoning applies to independent claim 7, mutatis mutandis.

Claims 2-6 are dependent on claim 1 and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.

3. Additional observations

- 3.1 Independent claim 7 is not in the two-part form in accordance with Rule 6.3(b) PCT, which in the present case would be appropriate, with those features known in combination from the prior art (document D1) being placed in the preamble (Rule 6.3(b)(i) PCT) and with the remaining features being included in the characterising part (Rule 6.3(b)(ii) PCT).

- 3.2 The term "IP-Xpress board" used in claim 2 is a commercial name. As such, it not define unambiguously the technical features to which it refers, thereby rendering the definition of the subject-matter of said claim unclear (Article 6 PCT).
- 3.3 Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the document D1 is not mentioned in the description, nor is this document identified therein.
- 3.4 The features of the claims 1-6 are not provided with reference signs placed in parentheses (Rule 6.2(b) PCT).
- 3.5 According to the requirements of Rule 11.13(I) reference signs not appearing in the description shall not appear in the drawings, and vice versa. This requirement is not met. The applicant is requested to add the corresponding reference signs in the figure.
